

Certified Public Accountant (CPA)

Program Overview

In a rapidly globalizing world, accountants are expected to master both U.S. GAAP and International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS). The U.S. Certified Public Accountant (CPA) credential is one of the most respected and universally recognized qualifications in the accounting profession. It provides international career mobility, higher earning potential, and recognition as an expert in U.S. taxation, auditing, and regulatory matters.

Earning the CPA is challenging—but with Ample Institute and UWorld Accounting's CPA Exam Review, you gain structured preparation, advanced study tools, and expert faculty support to guide you every step of the way.

Course Structure

The CPA Exam is divided into three Core sections and three Discipline sections. Candidates must pass all three Core sections and choose one Discipline:

Core Sections

Auditing & Attestation (AUD)

Covers auditing procedures, reports, standards (GAAS), attestation engagements, government auditing, and professional responsibilities. Prepares you for practical audit scenarios with strong focus on professional ethics.

Financial Accounting & Reporting (FAR)

Focuses on U.S. GAAP for businesses, not-for-profit organizations, and government entities. Includes coverage of IFRS and how it differs from GAAP. This is the most comprehensive exam section, testing a wide range of accounting principles.

Regulation (REG)

Covers federal taxation for individuals and entities, property transactions, business law, and professional responsibilities. Builds skills to apply complex tax concepts to real-world business problems.

Discipline Sections (Choose One)

Business Analysis & Reporting (BAR)

Financial and risk management, operations, advanced reporting standards, and technical/governmental accounting. Ideal for those interested in corporate finance and analytics.

Information Systems & Controls (ISC)

Information systems, IT frameworks, data management, cybersecurity, confidentiality, and SOC engagements. Perfect for candidates aiming to combine accounting with technology.

Tax Compliance & Planning (TCP)

Corporate, individual, and entity tax compliance, planning strategies, and property tax transactions. Best for those seeking specialization in taxation.

Passing Requirement: Candidates must score 75% or higher in each exam section.
